

Acupuncture is shown to help with a wide range of medical conditions such as stiff neck, back pain, sciatica, headache, migraine, Carpal tunnel syndrome, joint pain (shoulder, tennis/golf elbow, knee, hip, etc.), plantar fasciitis(heel pain), opioid addiction, fibromyalgia, neuropathy (numbness and tingling hands or/and feet), vertigo/dizziness, tinnitus(ring in ear), Bell's palsy, facial tics, sleep disorders/insomnia, anxiety/depression, weight control, Shingles pain, allergy/asthma, sinusitis, stroke prevention or rehab, Parkinson's symptoms, and so on.

Cosmetic Acupuncture is a natural approach to reducing the signs of aging and helping skin regain its youthful glow. Cosmetic acupuncture is a whole-body approach to wellness as it addresses the surface signs of aging as well as the internal changes that contribute to the aging process.

How Does it Work? Needles as thin as a strand of hair are inserted carefully into key areas and creases in the face, triggers an increase in blood flow and activates collagen production. The increase in blood flow helps revitalize and nourish the skin, resulting in healthier skin, a dewy glow, and a more youthful appearance.
